

To our valued Mad Science Customers

We are reaching out with heavy hearts to announce that Mad Science will need to significantly reduce operations in the midst of this global emergency. Although we are reducing operations we are still scheduling and performing programs. Whenever you are in need of our dynamic Mad Science programs, please reply to this email, visit us at Madscienceofnj.com, or call 609-737-0313 and one of our Mad Scientists will respond to your inquiry within a few business hours if not sooner.

Our sincere hope is that everyone stays safe and supports one another through this challenge. Rest assured that as normalcy returns your professional, passionate, and engaging Mad Scientists will be eager to return to inspiring our children about the joys and wonders of science.

Volcano Vance Fox,

Director

Mad Science of West and Central New Jersey